AEF Executive Director Departing

New York, NY – The Axion Estin Foundation (AEF) is announcing the departure of its Executive Director, Nektarios Antoniou, as of the date of this press release. Nektarios has been with the AEF since January 2019 when he was selected as Executive Director. He led the organization through a critical transition stage, continuing AEF’s important mission to preserve our cultural heritage of Byzantine music and arts in the community. “Nektarios has brought knowledge of the arts communities within Greece and the USA and an ability to forge artistic collaborations within the AEF range of activities. He has served with distinction and I wish him well in his new endeavors,” said AEF President, Angelo Lampousis. In accordance with the AEF bylaws, the Executive Committee will select a new Executive Director subject to ratification by the Board of Directors. The process to search for a replacement will be announced in a later communication.

The Axion Estin Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organizations that is dedicated to the promotion of Byzantine Music in the United States.
